The Man Who United India

By common endeavour we can raise the country to a new greatness, while lack of unity will expose us to fresh calamities. “- Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel

A prominent force in India’s struggle for independence, Vallabhbhai Jhaverbhai Patel (October 31 1875 – December 15, 1950) lovingly known as Sardar Patel played a significant role in shaping the future of the country by leading the massive task of integrating a united independent nation. Often called as ‘unifier of India’, it was Patel who persuaded almost every self-governing princely state to accede to India and successfully brought 562 princely states into a single Union of India. The colossal ‘Statue of India’ is a dedication to the Iron Man of India for his uncompromising efforts and commitment towards national integration.

Not just towards the independence of India, Sardar Vallabhai Patel is also known to play an instrumental role in creating IAS – Indian Administrative Services for which he came to be known as ‘Patron Saint!’ It was under the chairmanship of Sardar Patel ‘Fundamental Rights and Economic Policy’ resolution was passed by the Congress in 1931.

Social Work & Services Towards Nation

An Indian barrister and statesman, Patel studied law in England and practiced in Ahmedabad. Although he wasn’t much keen during the initial stages of independence movement, a meeting in 1917 with Gandhi changed his views. It was then he left his law practice and committed himself to the struggle of independence and public welfare.

Sardar Patel during his years as the President of the Municipal Committee of Ahmadabad implemented several programs including water supply, sanitation, town and administration planning programs. He is known to have worked towards several social reforms including caste discrimination, untouchability, alcoholism and women empowerment.

First Home Minister and Deputy Prime Minister of Independent India, the Iron Man of India was posthumously awarded Bharat Ratna, India’s highest civilian award in 1991 and it was in 2014 it was announced that India would celebrate Patel’s birthday i.e., 31st October as National Unity Day or Rashtriya Ekta Diwas

Early Life

Vallabhbhai was born in 1875 (October 31 as per matriculation certificate) in Nadiad village of Gujarat. He was the 4th in a family of 6 kids. He passed his matriculation at the age of 22

Barrister Days

When Patel decided to become a lawyer, he worked, saved funds & traveled to England (at 35). Borrowing books from lawyers, he passed his exams & became barrister within 2 years.

Bardoli Satyagraha

After participating in Kheda Satyagraha with Gandhi, Patel led Bardoli satyagraha - a mass peasant protest, which not only got him national fame but also earned him the title of 'Sardar'

President of Congress - 1931

Just out of jail, in 1931, Patel was elected the President of the Indian National Congress (Karachi Session) - The time when nation was angry over the execution of Bhagat Singh, Rajguru & Sukhdev.

The Patron Saint of the IAS

The architect of modern India, Vallabhbhai Patel, the first Deputy Prime Minister is also remembered as the “patron saint of India’s civil servants” for having established the modern all-India services system

Our Freedom Fighters Who United India

Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi

Better known as the Mahatma, or great soul, Gandhi was an Indian lawyer who led his country to freedom from British colonial rule in 1947. He was assassinated months later at age 78. Gandhi is most famous for his philosophy of nonviolence that has inspired civil rights leaders around the world.

Tantia Tope

Tatya Tope or Tantia Topi, original name Ramchandra Panduranga, a leader of the Indian Mutiny of 1857–58. Although he had no formal military training, he was probably the best and most effective of the rebels' generals. In May 1857, Tantia Tope won the battle over the Indian troops of the East India Company at Kanpur

Kanaiyalal Maneklal Munshi

Munshi was an active participant in the freedom struggle. He extended legal counsel to a number of freedom fighters who were detained by the British, and also participated in the Bardoli Satyagraha, Salt Satyagraha and the Quit India movement.

Jawaharlal Nehru

He helped to make the struggle of the people in the princely states a part of the nationalist movement for independence. Nehru was also given the responsibility of planning the economy of a future India and appointed the National Planning Commission in 1938 to help frame such policies.

Bhagat Singh

He began to protest British rule in India while still a youth and soon fought for national independence. He also worked as a writer and editor in Amritsar for Punjabi- and Urdu-language newspapers espousing Marxist theories. He is credited with popularizing the catchphrase "Inquilab zindabad" ("Long live the revolution").

Lal Bahadur Shastri

Lal Bahadur Shastri was sixteen when Gandhiji called upon his countrymen to join the Non-Cooperation Movement. He decided at once to give up his studies in response to the Mahatma's call. The decision shattered his mother's hopes. The family could not dissuade him from what they thought was a disastrous course of action. But Lal Bahadur had made up his mind.

Chandra Shekhar Azad

Chandra Shekhar Tiwari, popularly known as Chandra Shekhar Azad, was an Indian revolutionary who reorganised the Hindustan Republican Association (HRA) under its new name of Hindustan Socialist Republican Association (HSRA) after the death of its founder, Ram Prasad Bismil, and three other prominent party leaders, Roshan Singh, Rajendra Nath Lahiri and Ashfaqulla Khan.

Subhas Chandra Bose

Subhas Chandra Bose, affectionately called as Netaji, was one of the most prominent leaders of Indian freedom struggle. Though Mahatma Gandhi and Jawaharlal Nehru have garnered much of the credit for successful culmination of Indian freedom struggle, the contribution of Subash Chandra Bose is no less. He has been denied his rightful place in the annals of Indian history. He founded Indian National Army (Azad Hind Fauj) to overthrow British Empire from India and came to acquire legendary status among Indian masses.

Rani Lakshmi Bai

Lakshmibai, the Rani of Jhansi, was an Indian queen, the Maharani consort of the Maratha princely state of Jhansi from 1843 to 1853 as the wife of Maharaja Gangadhar Rao. She was one of the leading figures of the Indian Rebellion of 1857 and became a symbol of resistance to the British Raj for Indian nationalists.

Lala Lajpat Rai

Lala Lajpat Rai (28 January 1865 — 17 November 1928) was an Indian independence activist. He played a pivotal role in the Indian Independence movement. He was popularly known as Punjab Kesari. He was one of the three members of the Lal Bal Pal triumvirate.[1] He was also associated with activities of Punjab National Bank and Lakshmi Insurance Company in their early stages in 1894.

Dadabhai Naoroji

Dadabhai Naoroji, also known as the "Grand Old Man of India" and "Unofficial Ambassador of India", was an Indian political leader, merchant, scholar and writer who was a Liberal Party Member of Parliament in the United Kingdom House of Commons between 1892 and 1895 and the first Asian to be a British MP[1][2] other than the Anglo-Indian MP David Ochterlony Dyce Sombre, who was disenfranchised for corruption after nine months in office.
